

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

Hello young architects and civil engineers from Mosul!

Are you interested in acquiring skills to contribute to the recovery of heritage in Mosul? If so, you are invited to submit applications for participating in the yearlong field based training course on the recovery of city of Mosul organized by ICCROM (International Centre for the Study of Preservation and Restoration of Cultural Property) in collaboration with UNESCO. The training will be conducted in English and will include lectures and field exercises. Various modules on situation analysis, recording and documentation, damage assessment, stabilization, repairs and restoration, recovery planning, upgradation and adaptive reuse will be conducted as part of the training to be held from November 2021 until July 2022. The full-time training will take place at the University of Mosul.

The capacity building programme is implemented by ICCROM under an international partnership agreement with UNESCO under the “Revival of the Spirit of Mosul” initiative of UNESCO. Selected participants will be paid monthly stipend to cover their daily subsistence. Upon successful completion of the training, participants will be awarded a certificate and recommendation for employment in recovery projects carried out by UNESCO and other international organizations. Those interested may submit their application at HRP-Mosul@iccrom.org

The call for applications is open until vacancies are available.
