

Privacy

Personal Data Protection
ICCRM

New rights and opportunities for everyone

Innovation and simplification that benefit individuals whose personal data are processed

Greater transparency

Clearer, easier and more understandable information on data processing. I know how my data is processed and I can exercise my rights

Rights of interested parties

Rights to information, access, withdrawal of consent, opposition to treatment, rectification, restriction of processing and erasure

Being forgotten and portability

The possibility to erase information online that jeopardizes privacy, and to transfer data from one data controller to another

Data breach

Clear procedures in the event of a breach that may impact personal information (accidental or unlawful destruction, loss, alteration, unauthorized disclosure of or access to personal data)

Security measures

Activities and fulfilments carried out to ensure the reduction of risks deriving from data processing

Roles and responsibilities

Identification of roles and responsibilities of those who handle personal data

Data protection agreement

Commitment to enforce compliance with data protection principles, both internally by staff and externally by third parties with whom we collaborate

Data protection manual

Policies and procedures to ensure that personal data processing is carried out fairly, lawfully and in a transparent manner